SANDGATE Pest Control is proud to be celebrating its 50th anniversary this year.

The family-owned and operated company specialises in termites and all general pests and was established in 1968.

Ron and Denise Howarth bought the business in the early 1970s and managed it until 2004 when their son Luke and his wife Louise became joint owners.

Louise is managing director and now leads the company which has 17 team members including office staff and technicians.

Louise said they were passionate about protecting customers' properties from all pests. "One of our points of difference is the personal solutions we deliver to our customers," she said.

"Our trained office team truly compliments the professionalism and experience of our technicians."

"Our mission is to provide a professional service of the highest quality, endeavouring to treat all customers' homes as if they were our own."

Louise said they were also passionate about the relationships they form with customers.

"We have many customers who have been choosing us for 30-plus years, 20 years and 10 years. This is a real privilege and we look forward to protecting their property in the future. We also value our community and have built many partnerships over the years, supporting local schools, sporting clubs, groups and other not-for-profits."

Louise Howarth is managing director at Sandgate Pest Control.

Louise said Sandgate Pest Control's longevity in the industry was something to be proud of. "Our customers can trust the quality of our work. Into the future, we will continue to maintain high standards in the delivery of pest control and customer service," Louise said. "We will continue to remain up to date with the latest industry knowledge and trial new Prevention is better than cure!!

Every year many buildings in Australia are damaged by subterranean termites or other timber pests. Australia is home to some of the world's most destructive termites, and unfortunately it makes no difference to termites whether your home is one year old or 50 years old. Local company Sandgate Pest Control has been established since 1968, and they explain that the last few decades have seen big changes occur in how homes are protected from termites.

With the banning of the organochlorines, new chemicals were introduced that are not only deadly to termites, but are environmentally friendly and very safe for humans and pets. These chemicals are applied to the perimeter of a home's foundations. Because termites travel through the soil, they are then unable to enter a home without travelling through a treated area and dying.

A chemical barrier is designed to provide long term protection for your home (5 – 10 years). Sandgate Pest Control recommends that a barrier is installed before termites enter your home. General Manager David Cloake explains "why wait until termites have entered your home and caused significant damage? Installing a barrier first as a preventative measure will mean you don't have to worry about termite damage, you can rest easy knowing your house is safe and protected".

Sandgate Pest Control are happy to send a technician to your home to complete a site assessment and quote for a chemical barrier. This free service will allow you to talk to an experienced, licensed technician about the best way to protect your home from termite attack. Contact Sandgate Pest Control on 07 3269 6198 or www.sandgatepest.com.au today to organise your free site visit.

OUR REGION'S GOLDEN ERA

Everything's coming up Moreton Bay as record tourist numbers reveal boon for Moreton Bay economy

A record 3.6 million visitors travelled to the Moreton Bay Region last year, injecting close to $1 billion into the local economy.

Moreton Bay Regional Council Economic Development and Tourism Spokesperson Councillor Peter Flannery unveiled the latest tourism figures compiled by the region's destination marketing organisation, Moreton Bay Region Industry & Tourism, and EarthCheck, the world's leading scientific benchmarking, certification and advisory group for travel and tourism.

"The data shows the number of visitors coming to our region each year has increased by a whopping 24 per cent since 2015 to 3.6 million people per annum," Cr Flannery said.

"To put that into perspective, that's equivalent to the city of Berlin or the country of Puerto Rico now visiting the region every year.

"Those visitors in turn spent close to $1 billion on local tourism operators, businesses and cafes, supporting more than 13,000 jobs.

The approximately $1 billion spend, is an increase of 30 per cent in just three years, and bucks the trend of other regions in South-East which have experienced a drop in tourism expenditure.

In the same three-year span, the number of tourism businesses in the region has increased from just over 1,000 to more than 3,000 today.

"We're experiencing what I think is a golden era in terms of tourism growth in Moreton Bay," Cr Flannery said.

The latest figures also show visitors are also staying longer too, with the length of stay for international visitors now an average of four nights compared to just an average of one night three years ago.

"For the first time ever, Moreton Bay is leapfrogging other areas around South-East Queensland and throughout the country as visitor hotspot, and the figures show no signs of us slowing down."

Over the next few years, visitor numbers are expected to jump to 4.5 million per annum, while the projected additional nights stayed will hit the 1.4 million mark by 2025.

Cr Flannery said the record numbers came down to three key factors: investment by council, MBRIT and business; major events; and the increased promotion of the region.

"For every dollar council invested in tourism for 2017, it generated $609 in economic activity for businesses, tourism operators and accommodation providers.

"You look around and you've got major events taking place almost every weekend; huge venues at Eatons Hill, Sandstone Point and Redcliffe; and new cafes and restaurants throughout parts of Caboolture, the hinterland and along the coast."

POLAIR OVERHEAD

POLAIR BUZZES NORTH LAKES

That noise you heard overhead on Friday night was POLAIR successfully tracking a stolen vehicle from Inala as it drove across to Brisbane North.

Police successfully deployed a tyre deflation device at Mango Hill where the 25-year-old male driver and the 21-year-old female passenger abandoned the car on Maryvale Road and fled.

POLAIR followed the man where he was soon taken into custody, while the dog squad located the woman in bushes in a nearby rear yard. A firearm was also located.

Two people are assisting police with inquiries in relation to the unlawful use of a motor vehicle from Inala to Mango Hill last night.

Investigations into the incident are continuing.

ST BENEDICTS 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF ARMISTICE GRANT

St Benedict's Catholic Primary School has received Federal Government funding to develop their project to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Armistice of the First World War.

Mr Howarth said St Benedict's had received $5,300 under the Armistice Centenary Grants Program to support the creation of a memorial wall with commemorative art work and landscaping of monument area.

"This project will be a fitting tribute to appropriately acknowledge the end of the war 100 years ago," Mr Howarth said.

St Benedict's represents one of 50 successful applicants receiving funding for community projects to commemorate Australia's wartime history and the 100th anniversary of the Armistice recently announced by the Minister for Veterans' Affairs, Darren Chester.

"This round of grants has been designed to deliver local projects and activities to communities like ours to commemorate Australia's role in the First World War and pay tribute to service men and women and the Armistice Centenary," Mr Howarth said.

"The commitment of schools such as St Benedict's Primary ensures communities like ours can preserve our local history for future generations," Mr Howarth said.

Under the Armistice Centenary Grants Program every electorate in Australia will receive up to $50,000 to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the Armistice of the First World War.

This is the first announcement of projects under the grant program, with more successful recipients announced over the coming months.

THE REASONS WHY MEN AND WOMEN CHEAT DIFFER

Hello Leonie,

It was interesting to read about the young girl in your recent column and her dilemma as to whether or not she should rely on marriage for her future security.

My husband and I divorced after he had numerous affairs. I don't think that I could ever put my trust in marriage again as it nearly gave me a nervous breakdown.

My sisters have all been cheated on and my brother has had two affairs in the last 15 years. They went to counselling both times but really, I don't understand why she thinks he will change.

I was wondering in the case of marriages that end through infidelity, is it always the men who cheat or do you see women who have affairs too?

Navina/Kallangur

Hi Navina,

My experience in providing marriage counselling has been that men certainly stray more often than women do but you have to realise that my practice only represents a small sample size in terms of statistics. In my experience women stray for very different reasons than men do. Men seem to be able to separate their married home life from their involvement with other women. Whereas women will often tell me of their need for an emotional connection, to feel special, desirable and to be wooed and treated with respect. They will talk about emotionally disconnected husbands who don't communicate and shut them out. Women want to boost their egos and build on their self-esteem. Having an affair means that other men find them desirable even if their husbands don't. I have found that men may attempt to "supplement" their lives with affairs due to their physical and fantasy driven needs not being met, and women use affairs as an attempt to "augment" their lives due to their emotional needs not being met.

These are the various reasons men have told me that they have had affairs;

Boredom in marriage, wife no longer interested in sex, wife has become fat or physically unattractive after childbirth, wife too involved with children, wanting to transition out of the marriage, to get oral sex, to get sexual variety.

Reasons why women have told me they have had affairs;

Emotionally unavailable husbands, no foreplay from husband and predictable boring lovemaking, husband has become gross in appearance and behaviours, the embarrassment of being seen with a man who is not taking care of himself, the desire to feel attractive to a man, to make an emotional connection and to feel special, as a temporary respite from an unhappy marriage, to get love and affection, to pay a husband back for cheating.

Women often say that their husband's love making is so predictable that it bores them to tears. First, they do this, then they do that and they know exactly how things are going to play out. Some women have said that their relationships are broken records that just keep repeating ad nauseam. They talk about smelly body odour and beer guts, bad breath and uninteresting conversation, sport and drinking with the guys instead of investing in family and joint friendships. So, you can see whilst there is a physical component as to why both men and women cheat, women are usually looking to feel special and appreciated. As H.L. Mencken once said, "No matter how happily a woman may be married – it always pleases her to discover that there is a nice man who wishes that she were not"

Basically, I don't believe that gender predicts fidelity, but I do believe that pre-marriage counselling can help couples explore all the issues that they will face and plan to avoid or at least manage many of the common pitfalls that the everyday trials and the passage of time can impose on a long term relationship. By going in with eyes open, a list of deal breakers in hand and an understanding of what they can expect, couples stand a far better chance of a successful life together.

Til next week, Leonie

QUOTA CLUB OF NORTH LAKES

Changing the Lives of Local People

Your local Quota Club recently held their Annual Changeover Dinner and Presentation of Cheques at our newest venue in North Lakes – The North Lakes Hotel, situated overlooking beautiful Lake Eden.

A new 'Team Quota' for 2018-2019 were introduced and members and their husbands and friends enjoyed a delicious two course meal, served in the lovely new small Function Room at the North Lakes Hotel.

Fundraisers had been held by the Club, throughout 2017 including a Trivia Night, Bunnings Sausage Sizzles, plus a Curry in a Hurry Lunch.

Cheques were presented on the night to Hummingbird House Children's Hospice and a local student Arianna Favarato who has a bilateral hearing impairment, came to show off her one gold and two bronze medals that she had won in swimming, representing Team Queensland at the recent Special Olympics in Adelaide. Arianna and her family had received a cheque previously from Quota Club of North Lakes, enabling her and her family to attend the Special Olympics. She also presented a 'Certificate of Thanks' to the Club.

Cheques will also be given to Riding for the Disabled at Burpengary, to Beyond

Blue who assist people suffering from severe depression and to The Hear and Say Centre at Ashgrove where babies and young children who are born profoundly deaf and who have had cochlear implants are taught to speak.

Also in attendance was a local young man, Alijah McDougall who attends The Lakes College. Alijah was the awardee of Quota International of North Lakes Service Award for 2017. He received this award for his services in volunteering in our local community and for his knowledge of Quota International and the work that we do. Alijah kindly donated his award money to a Quota International project that is currently running in Manila 'Empowering Women and Children through Education' which seeks to combat the issue of poverty.

If anyone is interested in finding out more about your local Quota Club, please give Membership Officer Joy a ring on 0418805687 or President Brenda on 34825152 or Secretary Glynis on 0413010088 or come and join them for a coffee at North Lakes Golf Club on the first Thursday of every month at 10am. CHANGES TO CHILD CARE SUBSIDY

Families need to act now as deadline looms

You will have already received reminders about this through various channels but, as anyone with children knows, non-urgent matters can get pushed down the list of things until they become urgent.

Things are now urgent.

On 2 July 2018, the Federal Government will replace the Child Care Benefit (CCB) and Child Care Rebate (CCR) with a single means-tested subsidy, known as the Child Care Subsidy (CCS), this transition cannot happen automatically. The changes will affect all families who are currently receiving child care payments.

"We know that families are time poor, but it only takes around 10 minutes to complete the new assessment online. To be eligible families must update their Centrelink account details through myGov. You won't automatically rollover to the new system," a spokeswoman from Sesame Lane Care & Kindergarten said.

The government's overhaul of child care and early learning subsidies places an extra $2.5 billion investment in the system that will target support towards families earning the least and families working the most, introduce hourly rate caps to put downward pressure on fee increases and abolish the annual rebate cap for most families.

The department will work out how much Child Care Subsidy you're entitled to using your family's income, the hours of activity for you and your partner, the age of your child and the type of child care you use.

The July 2 changes also include changes to the annual cap. Under the Child Care Subsidy many families will no longer have a cap on the amount of subsidised care they are entitled to. Many families with income over $186,958 will still benefit, with the annual cap increasing to $10,190.

There is an online transition portal set up and a subsidy calculator (www.centrelink.gov.au). These tools include details on how families can update information such as their estimated work activity and income so a detailed assessment of their fee assistance entitlements is given.

To transition, you will need to complete an online Child Care Subsidy assessment using your Centrelink online account through myGov. You will be asked to provide some new information and confirm your current details, including, combined family income, the activity level of parents and the type of child care service. If families do not complete their assessment before 2 July 2018, they may not receive any child care fee assistance.

To coincide with the changes, Sesame Lane surveyed their families to gauge their activity hours per week and used the information to create two session times that would give their families the opportunity to maximize the subsidy.

As a result, from 2 July 2018 Sesame Lane are introducing a new 9 hour session which runs from 8.00am – 5.00pm. There will still be the standard 12 hour session so that families will have the opportunity to choose a relevant session to better suit their individual family.

"The survey results showed us that majority of our families are not requiring 12 hour care but rather shorter time of around 9 hours. We have created the two different sessions to assist our families in ensuring the best utilisation of available Child Care Subsidy hours." Said a spokeswoman from Sesame Lane Care & Kindergarten," the spokesman said.

Parents must log onto the myGov website and complete the 7 items of the required documentation to be eligible for the new CCS. Required information includes estimated income for 2018/19 and approximate work hours for both parents. Under the new system, both parents must be working, studying, volunteering or searching for work at least eight hours a fortnight to be eligible for the subsidies.

With just over a week until the beginning of the new financial year, families are running out of time to register.

Here's exactly what you need to do:

1. Sign into your Centrelink online account through myGov
2. Select Complete your Child Care Subsidy assessment task.
3. Work through the steps to provide new information and confirm your current details.

YOUR STARS

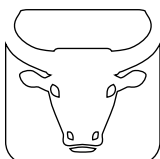

AQUARIUS JAN 21- FEB 19: A critic who often opposes you comes seeking advice. Put aside differences. This could be the makings of an enduring friendship.

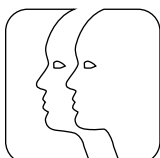

PISCES FEB 20-MARCH 20: You hear word that a financial matter isn't as dire as all that. You're not out of the woods yet, but at this point any clearing will do.

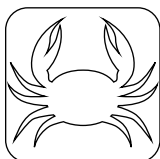

ARIES MARCH 21-APRIL 20: Mercury, the messenger planet, throws a juicy tidbit your way. Use it. It's just the scoop you've been looking for to turn the tables.

TAURUS APRIL 21-MAY 21: You need to stop, look, and listen. There are too many variables flying past. Wait for things to settle and then proceed from there.

GEMINI MAY 22-JUNE 21: Put finishing touches on a pitch or proposal and send it on its way. Timing is everything if you want success. Strike while the iron's hot.

CANCER JUNE 22-JULY 23: An adversary is banking on your distaste for confrontation. Stick to your guns. Your resolve works in your favor.

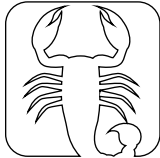

LEO JULY 24-AUG 23: Once again you're vacillating, but don't apologize for it this time. Instead of pressuring yourself, put the onus on others to make the situation more agreeable.

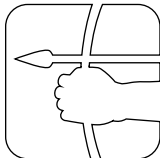

VIRGO AUG 24-SEPT 23: Sticking to a preconceived notion is an exercise in futility. Get into the playful spirit of the Mercury/Sun conjunction and quirky twists yield surprise revelations.

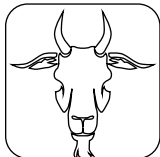

LIBRA SEPT 24-OCT 23: Someone who promised to be there wavers. Don't panic. Exude confidence and this person will be emboldened by your courage.

SCORPIO OCT 24-NOV 22: Remarkably it looks like you may have the upper hand. Run it past a close friend. S/he will be able to confirm whether it's so or no.

SAGITTARIUS NOV 23-DEC 21: Offered a compromise you can already see how it won't work. But sometimes you have to take baby steps before attempting a big stride. Accept it.

CAPRICORN DEC 22-JAN 20: Pay attention to minutiae. All you have to do is add one detail or take something away and everything will work out.

LAURIE ANDERSON, HOTA'S ARTIST IN RESIDENCE

Date: four days only - 20 to 24 June, nightly at 7.30pm

Location: 135 Bundall Rd, Surfers Paradise, QLD 4217

In a major arts coup, world renowned multi-award winning musician, film director and pioneer, Laurie Anderson has left her home in New York to take up residency at HOTA, Home of the Arts on the Gold Coast, during which time she will perform one world and two Australian premiere concerts as well as her world famous Concert for Dogs.

• SOL/Stories in the Dark on both Wednesday and Thursday 20 and 21 June at 7.30. It's a rare double bill of strings, soundscapes and storytelling in an intimate performance. It costs just $27.

SOL, an Australian premiere, is inspired by Sol LeWitt, written and recorded in 1972, the work is based on Sol's number series drawings. Anderson revised and expanded the work in 2016 into a thirty-minute composition arranged for strings by Rubin Kodheli. This will be played with a quartet as an installation evoking the enduring resonance of sound and form.

Stories in the Dark, a world premiere is said to be experience unlike any other you'll never see. Performed in complete darkness, it's a complex series of multi channelled soundscapes and stories that collaborates with listeners. Stories in the Dark uses sound to create and destroy your own mental movies- a collection of mystery and adventure stories that play with memory, time and visualization. A rare double bill of strings, soundscapes and storytelling in an intimate performance by Laurie Anderson.

• THE LANGUAGE OF THE FUTURE: The Language of the Future is a multimedia work built and presented in chapters that often reflect current events. The piece combines stories, songs, electronics and images that build on the artist's themes of love, war, communication and history. In 2018, The Language of the Future incorporates the hallucinogenic rush of information and takes on the current nature of stories in the wider political arena. Arts Theatre on Friday 22 June 2018 at 7.30pm - 9.00pm (no intermission), $35.00

• (AUSTRALIAN PREMIERE) SONGS FROM THE BARDO: In this musical presentation of texts from the Tibetan Book of the Dead (also known as The Great Liberation Through Hearing in the Bardo) Anderson and the renowned Tibetan artist, composer, activist, musical director and cultural ambassador Tenzin Choegyal present their interpretation of the treasured words and images of this ancient text. Outdoor concert at sunset: Outdoor Stage on Saturday 23 June 2018 at 4.30pm - Free

• CONCERT FOR DOGS: Violin, vocals, keyboards, and electronics composed for dogs; duration 20 minutes. Playing with melodies, frequencies and riffs she has composed especially for dogs, Laurie Anderson presents the latest in her series of Concerts for Dogs. The Gold Coast show will be a short concert for dogs and followed by an outdoor screening of her film Heart of A Dog. All breeds are welcome. But dogs must be on leashes and play well with others. Sunday 24 June 2018 at 9.00am on the Outdoor stage - FREE. Details and bookings: www.hota.com.au

QUEENSLAND BUDGET DISAPPOINTS HOME BUYERS

- New home buyers will be worse off from Queensland budget according to Housing Industry Association.
- Federal Budget benign for housing
- Median House prices fall

HIA Executive Director Warwick Temby said "the removal of the $5,000 first home boost from the end of the month, the introduction of the $70 a tonne waste levy and increases in land tax will all make it harder for new home buyers to make it.

"Housing affordability clearly isn't a priority for the Government."

"At a time when new work in the home building industry is slowing and population growth is picking up Queensland needs policies and programs that will support the future demand for housing; not more costs on an already overtaxed new home build."

"Regional Queensland is likely to be hardest hit by these measures."

"Residential building in the regions was just beginning to show some signs of life after years in the doldrums. The last thin g the industry needs in regional Queensland is the higher hurdles the budget will put in the face of first home buyers in particular."

"Less than 10 per cent of the $400m from its new waste levy in a full year would have kept the first home boost alive"

The Government's priorities for Queenslanders trying to get into a new home seem all wrong", Mr Temby concluded."

"QUEENSLAND NEEDS POLICIES AND PROGRAMS THAT WILL SUPPORT THE FUTURE DEMAND FOR HOUSING; NOT MORE COSTS ON AN ALREADY OVERTAXED NEW HOME BUILD"

The Real Estate Institute of Australia (REIA) said The 2018 federal Budget had no measures that specifically address housing supply and affordability, according to (REIA).

"Whereas housing affordability was a centre piece of the 2017 Budget there was nothing in this year's Budget that directly addressed this," REIA President Malcolm Gunning said.

"It was however pleasing to see that the Government recognises the important role that the current taxation arrangements for negative gearing and Capital Gains Tax play in increasing supply, keeping rents affordable and easing the burden on social housing by leaving these unchanged," he said.

Mr Gunning said the Budget's approach recognises the state of the property market and the impact that APRA's measures have had in cooling the market particularly in Melbourne and Sydney and the Treasurer has seen no reason to make any further adjustments.

"A boost to infrastructure spending, modest improvements in housing income for lower income earners, continued tax write offs for small to medium business and growth in employment can be expected to be mildly expansionary, particularly for regional economies.

"The good news for home buyers is that the Budget is not expected to put pressure on interest rates as inflation is expected to remain within the RBA's target zone.

"This expected interest rate stability comes at a time when housing prices in some of our major cities are showing signs of easing leading to improved affordability for first home buyers," Mr Gunning.

Meanwhile, median house price across Australian capital cities has declined in the first quarter of 2018, according to the latest research from the REIA.

Over the March quarter, the median house price for Brisbane decreased to $515,000, a decrease of 2.8 per cent but an increase of 2.0 per cent over the previous year.

The median rent for three-bedroom houses in Brisbane increased to $390 per week, an increase of 2.6 per cent over the March quarter but stable over the past year. The vacancy rate in Brisbane increased to 2.7 per cent, an increase of 0.1 percentage points during the March quarter.
